

Need help getting Educational Credential Assessment (ECA) for jobs, higher studies or immigration?

Assessment of most foreign education

You must use an organization on our list. If an organization isn't on this list, we will not accept assessments from them.

- Comparative Education Service: University of Toronto School of Continuing Studies
 - designated April 17, 2013
- International Credential Assessment Service of Canada
 - designated April 17, 2013
- World Education Services
 - designated April 17, 2013
- International Qualifications Assessment Service
 - designated August 6, 2015
- International Credential Evaluation Service
 - designated August 6, 2015

If you aren't sure which organization to choose, contact them.

Assessment for specialist and family physicians

You must get your report from the Medical Council of Canada (designated April 17, 2013) if your primary occupation is:

- specialist physician
 - 2011 NOC code 3111
- general practitioner/family physician
 - 2011 NOC code 3112

Assessment for pharmacists

If you are a pharmacist (NOC code 3131), where you need to get your report depends on your job.

If you need a license to practice you must get your report from the Pharmacy Examining Board of Canada (designated January 6, 2014). This applies to you if you care for patients in a:

- hospital pharmacy
- long term care facility
- community pharmacy

If you do not need a license for your job, you can get your assessment from any other designated ECA organization. This includes jobs where you may need a pharmacy degree but may not need to have a licence to practice, such as:

- government
- the pharmaceutical industry

Contact the regulatory body in the province where you plan to live to find out if you need a licence to practice.
